

January 5, 1951

February Newsletter

Hello Fellow Broadcasters:

This is Ruth Steinberg and Gordon McIntyre back again speaking on behalf of the students and activities of W R T I. We hope you had a very nice Holiday season and you're not too tired to face those on-coming finals. Speaking of finals, those nasty little things are beginning to breathe down the backs of our necks and we've to quit broadcasting a week before the end of the semester to give us a chance to make up a year's work. In fact one of our funnier wits (it was in Studio B I believe) noted that finals must be the "thing" Mr. Harris found in his infamous box.

The latest topic of discussion down here at "Huckster Hollow" is... the draft, and "how does one get into Armed Forces Radio Service?" Nobody seems to have the answer, but it looks as though our announcing staff will be getting smaller and smaller at each invasion. Just before the vacation, all of us had turkey for Christmas, in the annual W R T I Christmas show, which turned out to be just that. The cranberries were served by the critics. It wasn't really as bad as all that, but an awful lot of people seemed to have suffered from indigestion that day.

The newest name for Temple's hopeful All-American Basketball Star, Bill Mlkvy, is "the Owl with no Vowel". Just how we'll refer to him when we bring him down to W R T I for an interview is as yet undecided.

Next letter we will have loads of info for you about our new programming ideas, scheduling, etc., since W R T I revises its logs and program ideas each semester, but as of right now, thins are kind of slowing down in preparation for our bout with the final exams.

About official business... 1. Max Glass is now working to achieve

National accounts for Region 3

2. N Y U with Radio Station W N Y U may soon apply for I.B.S. membership.

3. XXXX Lehigh was the first to contribute to the "Round Robin" "E.T." Exchange. But Don't worry, by Feb.

a very nice Holiday season. I'll be flying.

4. By the time you read this letter...

agencies will have been contacted in order to secure five radio stations in Region 3.

That's about all from me. I'll be back to all of you for all of 1951. GOOD LUCK (AND GOOD BROADCASTING).

"thing" Mr. Harris found in his intimate box.

Sincerely,

The latest topic of discussion down here at "Huckster Hollow" is...

Ruth Steinberg (Station Manager)

the draft, and "how does one get into Armed Forces Radio Service?"

Nobody seems to have any idea as to how our announcing staff will be getting smaller and smaller at each invasion.

Just before the vacation, all of us had turkey for Christmas, in the annual W R T I Christmas show, which turned out to be just that.

The cranberries were served by the critics. It wasn't really as bad as all that, but an awful lot of people seemed to have suffered from indigestion that day.

The newest name for Temple's hospital All-American Basketball Star, Bill Mikvy, is "the Owl with no Vowel". Just how we'll refer to him when we bring him down to W R T I for an interview is as yet undecided.

Next letter we will have loads of info for you about our new programming ideas, scheduling, etc., since W R T I revises its logs and program ideas each semester, but as of right now, things are kind of slowing